PREFACE.

THE rapid growth of the Library during the past few years, largely due to the munificence of such donors as the late Mr. William Molson, Mr. Peter Redpath, Mr. Alexander, the late Dr. Robson, of Warrington, England, and last, though not least, The McGill College Book Club, has made the publication of a Catalogue, for the use and convenience of readers, a work of growing necessity. It is, therefore, with much satisfaction that the Faculty of Arts, in whose charge the Library of the College is placed by the Corporation, are enabled, by a special grant of the Governors, to meet this want, by the publication of the following Catalogue. It is the desire of the authorities of the University that this Library, for the enrichment of which the liberality of private citizens has done so much, should be as widely used as practicable, not only by students and graduates of the University, but also by those of the community generally who are possessed of literary tastes or engaged in literary pursuits: and, to this end, all restrictions on access to it, except those necessary for the due preservation of the books, have been removed.

The limited funds at the disposal of the Faculty were not sufficient for the publication of both a Catalogue of Authors and a Catalogue of Subjects; and as, of the two, the former was deemed the more useful for the purposes and wants of readers, this Catalogue of Authors has been prepared and published; and though it may not reach the ideal of completeness and of accuracy, it is nevertheless hoped that it will be found sufficiently clear and complete for the use of readers, and that it will serve as a basis for future and more perfect editions, as the growth of the library may render these necessary.

For the information of readers, and of others who may wish to avail themselves of the use of the Library, the Regulations appertaining thereto are appended to this Catalogue.

On behalf of the Faculty:—

GEORGE CORNISH, LL.D.,
J. CLARK MURRAY, LL.D.,

2. Students may borrow books from the Library on depositing the sum of four dollars with the Librarian, and signing a receipt for the books; such deposit to be returned to the Student on his returning the books uninjured.

3. Students may borrow not more than three volumes at one time, except on special recommendation of a Professor, and must return them within two weeks, on penalty of a fine of one shilling for the first week of detention, and two shillings and sixpence for each subsequent week.

4. A Student incurring a fine will be debarred the use of the Library until the fine has been paid.

5. Any volume or volumes lost or damaged by a Student shall be paid for by him, at such rates as the Faculty may direct, having reference to the value of the book and of the set to which it may belong.

6. Students may read in the Library at such hours as may be determined by the Faculty.

7. Professors and Lecturers may borrow any books required by them for their duties in the College, not exceeding ten volumes at any one time. Books so borrowed must be returned at or before the end of each Session.

8. Graduates in any of the Faculties, on making a deposit of four dollars, are entitled to the use of the Library, subject to the same rules and conditions as Students; but they are not required to pay the Annual Library Fee.

9. Members of the McGill College Book Club are, by a regulation of Corporation, entitled to the use of the Library on the same conditions as Graduates.
